Preface / Vorwort

Artistic working in living together

In spring 2006 the 7th symposium of European Artists e.V. takes place. Participants are 33 artists from Europe and other parts of the world. For 14 days they will be working and living together. Not in order to discuss art in an abstract and stilted way, but with focus on the developing process of the works of each participating artist.

If you consider that most artists usually work alone in their studios without the possibility to show others what they are working at and how they are working, without the possibility to discuss problems, without exchanging ideas and suggestions, you will understand the enormous meaning of the Essen symposium.

It is an amicable meeting of young and older artists. Noticeable is the number of participating women.

It is a meeting outside of the official art circles, and the participation goes beyond primary artistic motivation. If we have a look at the list of participants and learn about their workings, we meet very different artistic positions and personalities.

The main emphasis of the artistic styles is painting: from clear realistic figurations to inventive colour combinations to minimal abstractions, where a deep-rooted cognitive or emotional experience can't be denied.

The differences between these extremes are of great importance: Figures, which are shadows or footprints; visions, evoking joy or nightmares; strong and contrasting colours or tender hues; geometrical or free abstractions in their development.

Beside the prevailing paintings, other works like installations, woodcuts and photo works are represented. It is worth mentioning that all artists avoid formalism. Decidedly they give precedence to those things coming from their innermost, in qualified forms of expression and always in a personal style.

The European Artists e.V. symposium is an opportunity to meet, to make new acquaintances and to keep up friendships. Own works and works of others result from mutual ideas and exchanges – and they go far beyond art. In other words: the experience to create art together encounters living in friendship and solidarity – virtues which are tragically rare in our times.

Künstlerisches Schaffen im Zusammenleben

Im Frühjahr 2006 findet das 7. Symposium des European Artists e.V. statt. Teilnehmer sind 33 Künstlerinnen und Künstler aus Europa und anderen Teilen der Welt. 14 Tage werden sie zusammen sein, leben und arbeiten. Nicht, um in abstrakter, abgehobener Weise über Kunst zu diskutieren, sondern im Hinblick auf den Entstehungsprozess der Werke eines jeden teilnehmenden Künstlers.

Wenn man bedenkt, dass die meisten Künstler in der Regel alleine in ihren Ateliers arbeiten, ohne die Möglichkeit Anderen zu zeigen, was sie erarbeiten und wie sie arbeiten, ohne die Möglichkeit über Probleme zu sprechen, ohne Anregungen zu erhalten oder geben zu können, wird man die enorme Bedeutung des Essener Symposiums begreifen. Es ist ein freundschaftliches Zusammensein von jungen und älteren Künstlern. Die Anzahl der Frauen ist beträchtlich.

Es handelt sich um ein Treffen außerhalb der offiziellen Kunstkreise, bei dem die Teilnahme über die primäre künstlerische Motivation hinausgeht. Wenn wir die Liste der Teilnehmer durchsehen und uns über ihre Arbeitsweisen informieren, treffen wir auf sehr unterschiedliche künstlerische Positionen und Persönlichkeiten.

Schwerpunkt der künstlerischen Ausdrucksweisen ist die Malerei: von deutlichen realistischen Figurationen über erfindungsreichen Farbzusammenstellungen bis hin zu minimalen Abstraktionen, deren Verwurzelung in kognitiver oder emotionaler Erfahrung nicht zu bestreiten ist.

Die Unterschiedlichkeit zwischen diesen Extremen ist von großer Wichtigkeit: Figuren, die Schatten oder Fußabdrücke sind; Visionen, die Freude oder Albträume hervorrufen; starke und kontrastierende Farben oder zarte Farbtöne; geometrische oder freie Abstraktionen in ihrer Entwicklung.

Neben der vorherrschenden Malerei sind Installationen, Holzschnitte und Fotoarbeiten vertreten. Erwähnenswert ist, dass alle Künstler den Formalismus vermeiden. Sie geben mit Bestimmtheit den Dingen Vorrang, die aus dem Inneren kommen, in qualifizierten Ausdrucksformen und immer im persönlichen Stil.

Das Symposium des European Artists e.V. ist eine Gelegenheit sich zu treffen, neue Bekanntschaften zu schließen und alte fortzuführen. Das eigene Werk und das der Anderen entsteht durch gegenseitige Anregung und Austausch - weit über die Kunst hinaus. Anders gesagt, die Erfahrung, Kunst gemeinsam zu schaffen, trifft zusammen mit einem Leben in Freundschaft und Solidarität, Tugenden, mit denen unsere Zeit tragischerweise geizt.

7° International European Artists Symposium, Exhibition Hall Folkwang Akademie in Essen

The concept of international artists from different cultures and backgrounds coming and working together reached its pinnacle in 2003 with the taking place of the First International Artists Symposium in Essen, Germany.

Once or twice a year, a two week International Symposium with Workshop is held in Essen and in another country. Creative development, discussion evenings and performances from the invited artists culminates in an intensive exchange of ideas. This in turn symbolises the common ground which unites artists from all over the world.

Attending this year's symposium are between 15-35 invited international artists (painters, graphic designers, photographers and sculptors). Each participant is required to donate three of their finished works to the Association. Two of the works are to cover accommodation and the printing of the catalogue. The third work will become part of the Association's collection which will thereafter be exhibited throughout Europe in museums and galleries.

Zielsetzung des im Jahr 2003 gegründeten internationalen Kunstvereins „European Artists e.V.“ ist die Förderung der Zusammenarbeit von Künstlern verschiedener Nationalität und Historie über den europäischen Zenit hinaus.

In diesem Sinne findet 1-2 Mal jährlich ein zweiwöchiges Symposium mit Workshop auf internationaler Ebene in Essen (Deutschland) und in anderen Ländern statt. Vorträge, Diskussionsabende und Performances der eingeladenen Künstler fördern einen intensiven Gedankenaustausch. Es entsteht ein Gefühl der Zusammengehörigkeit hinweg über alle Landesgrenzen.

Zu den jeweiligen Symposien werden 15 – 35 Künstler aus aller Welt (Maler, Grafiker, Fotografen und Bildhauer) eingeladen. Jeder Teilnehmer verpflichtet sich drei seiner gefertigten Arbeiten dem Verein zur Verfügung zu stellen. Zwei davon werden zur Deckung der Kosten der Veranstaltung mit Unterbringung, Verpflegung und dem Druck eines Kataloges zum Verkauf angeboten. Das dritte Werk wird in die Sammlung des Vereins aufgenommen, die europaweit in Museen oder Galerien präsentiert werden.

ISLANDS DANCING IN THE AIR

Work description: Irregular semicircles of Washi paper (variable numbers and dimensions) which internal structures are made of bamboo or wood. They must be hanging with nylon strings inside a cover and at a protected site, because the material is perishable and suffers from water and wind.

The idea: To let your emotions go free into space like a moment of overture and lightness. The realized sign offers a generous look, even though its fragility is of ephemeral nature. This image is inspired by the butterfly's cocoon.

INSELN, DIE IN DER LUFT TANZEN

Arbeitsbeschreibung: Unregelmäßige Halbkreise aus Washi-Papier (in unterschiedlicher Anzahl und Größe), dessen innere Strukturen aus Bambus oder Holz sind. Sie müssen mit Nylonfäden innerhalb einer Hülle und an einem geschützten Ort hängen, weil das Material sehr empfindlich ist und vor Wasser und Wind bewahrt werden muss.

Die Idee: Den Gefühlen freien Lauf lassen in einem Moment der Ouvertüre und Leichtigkeit. Das geschaffene Zeichen gewährt einen großzügigen Anblick, obwohl seine Zerbrechlichkeit von flüchtiger Natur ist. Dieses Bild wurde vom Kokon eines Schmetterlings inspiriert.

1994 Studied at the Visual Art Academy "Ion Andreescu", Cluj-Napoca, series section Graphics, Prof. Ioachim Nica since 1999 Member of the "Union of the Fine Arts" Romania

Balea's paintings are bridges between past and the present. She lives and works in Arad and reveals her universe in thoughts and feelings revolving particularly around the theme of time. She is a graphic artist and painter and creates an imagery structured on suggestive and metaphorical shapes. Images are projected on cardboard and canvas, evolve from inside spheres, giving way to spatial order.

Balsas Bilder sind Brücken zwischen der Vergangenheit und der Gegenwart. Sie lebt und arbeitet in Arad und offenbart ihr Universum in Gedanken und Gefühlen, die sich besonders um das Thema Zeit drehen. Sie ist Grafikkünstlerin und Malerin und erschafft Bilder, die auf suggestiven und metaphorischen Formen aufgebaut sind. Ihre Bilder werden auf Karton und Leinwand entwickelt, entfalten sich aus dem Inneren und geben Weite für räumliche Ordnung.

Creative principles of abstract painting and of programme analysis characterise the work of this Slovak artist, Boho. His composition utilises subtle borders of colour fields (night and morning meditation), combined with horizontal and diagonal division. Colour is the bearer of energy. Free flowing paint is poured down colours and mixed media. Since 1995 Boho has used basic numerology calligraphy. The square, circle and triangle symbolise spirituality and numerology, well known to ancient cultures.

Kreative Grundsätze der abstrakten Malerei und der Programmanalyse kennzeichnen die Arbeiten des slowakischen Künstlers Boho. In seinen Kompositionen verwendet er subtile Grenzen von Farbfeldern (Nacht- und Morgenmeditation) in Verbindung mit horizontalen und diagonalen Einteilungen. Farbe ist der Energieträger. Frei fließende Farbe wird über Farben und verschiedene Materialien gegossen. Seit 1995 verwendet Boho die Grundsätze der Numerologie und Kalligraphie. Das Quadrat, der Kreis und das Dreieck stehen für Spiritualität und Numerologie, welche in antiken Kulturen sehr bekannt sind.

„Red Thread. 30 Years Georg Brandner“

Show are compositions from his latest works, which appear as evidence that his work has experienced significant changes and development in the past year. Brandner was compelled by the metamorphosis in his creations especially by several art symposiums in Egypt, India, Mexico, Thailand, Europe etc., which inspired the artist to innovations that transformed into monumental works of art in his Niklasdorf studio.

In his new works he doesn't limit himself to his former palette but extends the colouring by warm and earthy hues which he puts into a context with the splendour of the South Sea colours. Thoughts of the aggressive colour world of the steel industry, of fire and ember in the grey and cooling off slag, which characterised his past creative period, have died in Brandner's new act of creation.

The Italian sculptor Bruno Buttarelli refers to this mutation appropriately: "The material controlled him before, now he controls and commands the material." Materials such as silk cloths and lace from India or petals from Thailand are covered on canvas. A new fact thereby is that the artist tries to arrange the "chaos on canvas". In the artistic manifestations of his past creative period Georg Brandner disassociates himself from the disorganised "tension area" canvas and becomes open for dynamic order.

„Roter Faden. 30 Jahre Georg Brandner“

Gezeigt werden Kompositionen aus seinem letzten Werkabschnitt, die als Beweise dafür fungieren, dass sein Œuvre im letzten Jahr deutliche Veränderungen und Entwicklungsschritte erfuhr. Die Metamorphose in Brandners Schöpfungen wurde vor allem durch diverse Kunstsymposien in Ägypten, Indien, Mexiko, Thailand, Europa etc. forciert, die den Künstler zu Neuerungen inspirierten, welche er in seinem Atelier in Niklasdorf zu monumentalen Bildwerken transformierte.

In seinen neuen Werken beschränkt er sich nicht auf seine ehemalige Farbpalette, sondern erweitert das Kolorit durch warme, erdige Töne, die er mit der Pracht der Südseefarben in einen Kontext stellt. Die Gedanken an die aggressive Farbenwelt der Stahlindustrie, an das Feuer und die Glut im grauen, erkaltenden Schlackenbett, die seine vergangene Schaffensperiode kennzeichneten, sind im neuen Schöpfungsakt Brandners erloschen.

Der italienische Bildhauer Bruno Buttarelli nimmt auf diese Mutation treffend Bezug. „Vorher beherrschte ihn das Material, jetzt beherrscht und kontrolliert er es.“ Materialien wie Seidentücher und Spitzen aus Indien, Blütenblätter aus Thailand, werden auf die Leinwand kaschiert. Ein Novum dabei ist, dass der Künstler versucht, das „Chaos auf der Leinwand zu ordnen“. Georg Brandner distanziert sich in seinen künstlerischen Manifestationen der letzten Schaffensperiode vom ungeordneten Spannungsfeld Leinwand und wird offen für ein dynamisch Geordnetes.

Holds Bsc. & Msc. Degrees from the Haifa Technion and Tel-Aviv University since 1987 Member of Tel-Aviv Painters and Sculptors Association
Member of Israeli Forum of Art and Ecology

Asphalt & Aquarelle

Varda Breger's works deal with the conquering of nature by man, and the painful relations in human society.

The lack of balance between progress and nature, resulting from man's failure to conserve and distribute the resources on the planet amongst its inhabitants, is manifested in the disappearing variety of life especially the extinction of wildlife.

Lately many of her works are dedicated to the inferior and hopeless state of women in western and eastern society.

Asphalt & Aquarelle, the conqueror and the trampled, are embodied in the technique of the paintings. Vibrating opposing tensions between the transparent flowing aquarelle language, against the opaque and intensity that only acrylic color can supply.

Varda Breger has a master degree in Chemistry, and has displayed her works at more than ten solo exhibitions, and participated in many more exhibitions in Israel and abroad.

In 2004, she was awarded the Franz Kafka medal for Art by the European Circle Franz Kafka.

Varda Breger conveys her personal philosophy and feelings also in haiku poems.

Asphalt & Aquarelle

Varda Breger's Arbeiten beschäftigen sich mit der Eroberung der Natur durch den Menschen und die schmerzvollen Beziehungen in der menschlichen Gesellschaft.

Das fehlende Gleichgewicht zwischen Fortschritt und Natur, eine Folge des menschlichen Versagens, die Ressourcen dieses Planeten zu bewahren und unter seinen Bewohnern gerecht zu verteilen, zeigt sich durch das Verschwinden der Lebensvielfalt und im speziellen durch das Aussterben der Tier- und Pflanzenwelt.

Viele ihrer neuesten Werke sind Frauen in benachteiligten und hoffnungslosen Situationen in westlichen und östlichen Gesellschaften gewidmet.

Asphalt & Aquarelle, der Eroberer und der mit Füßen Getretene, werden durch die Technik ihrer Bilder verkörpert. Vibrierende entgegengesetzte Spannungen zwischen der transparenten flüssigen Sprache des Aquarells werden gegen die Undurchlässigkeit und Intensität gestellt, die nur Acrylfarbe bietet.

Varda Breger hat einen Universitätsabschluss in Chemie. Sie hat ihre Arbeiten in mehr als 10 Einzelausstellungen gezeigt und an vielen anderen Ausstellungen in Israel und im Ausland teilgenommen.

Im Jahre 2004 wurde ihr vom europäischen Franz-Kafka-Kreis die Franz-Kafka-Medaille für Kunst verliehen.

Varda Breger vermittelt ihre persönliche Philosophie und Gefühle auch in Haiku-Gedichten.

Wolfgang Brenner

1956 born in Oberwesel, Germany
since 1997 Freelance Artist, lives and works near Paderborn in Borchen since 2003 Lecturer at the art faculty, University of Paderborn, Germany
Member of the „European Artists e.V.”, Velbert, Germany

Wolfgang Brenner draws, writes, paints, leaves traces, mounts, arranges, finds material, leaves traces. He experiments, but still follows traditional aesthetic styles and thus sketches out his own artistic language. In his art, he materializes his perception of this world as well as of his own surreal imagination. Those works contain all sorts of contradictions: the realistic as well as the poetic, the earnest and the cheerful, philosophic and ordinary, the transient and the seemingly timeless, meaningful as well as banal things.

Exploring the works of Wolfgang Brenner means to start an aesthetic journey, it means to experiment with thoughts and imaginary pictures, to try out interpretations as well as just leave uninterpretable things stand as they are.

Wolfgang Brenner zeichnet, schreibt, malt, setzt Zeichen, montiert, arrangiert, findet Dinge, hinterlässt Spuren. Er experimentiert, folgt aber auch traditionellen ästhetischen Stilen und entwirft so seine eigene künstlerische Sprache. Er materialisiert seine Erfahrungen dieser Welt, wie die seiner irrealen Vorstellungswelten. Diese Materialisierungen enthalten all die Widersprüche und all das scheinbar Unvereinbare: Das Realistische wie das Poetische, das Ernste wie das Heitere, Philosophisches und Alltägliches, das Vergängliche wie das scheinbar Zeitlose, Bedeutsames wie Banales.

Die Arbeiten Wolfgang Brenners zu entdecken bedeutet, eine eigene ästhetische Reise vorzunehmen, mit Gedanken und Vorstellungsbildern zu experimentieren, Deutungen zu versuchen, wie auch nicht zu Deutendes einfach stehen zu lassen.

Fulvio Colangelo

Born in Aosta, Italy
Lives and works in Turin, Italy

Diploma for Set Design from the Academy Albertina di Belle Arti
Teaching Diploma for Design and Art History (High School)
Diploma in Graphics and Advertising
Teacher for Computergraphics at the "Balbis Institut" in Torino
Member of "European Artists e.V.", Velbert, Germany

He founded three advertising agencies, one Video Animation Studio, an Art Magazine and he teaches computer graphic in Turin, where he lives and works in his art studio. He had more than 80 among solo exhibitions, collectives, art events in Italy, Austria, Egypt, England, Finland, France, Germany, Spain, Switzerland and USA.

In 2004 / 05 for one year he organized a group of artists to be a strong support to a project against the mental diseases and the burn-out syndrome in the companies. In 2006 he was invited to 'give a soul' to the new department for the sleep apnea at the Ruhrland Klinik in Essen. The result has been 14 pictures outside and inside any rooms with different dreams done with the same growing way of the dreams. His works are mixed media with photo, painting and digital.

People, Eros, Links between people and things are his main fields of investigation.

My special sign can be seen in most of my pictures. It starts with two lines which taper together, and then goes on with an energy spiral and ends with a dot beside the sign ... We must break, in order to be really whole.

The sign consists of three elements:

The lines: Two lines building and supporting each other: the male and female, the strength and sweet.

The spiral: Building up energy, giving life, aiming higher and even higher.

The point: A sign detached from the sign, the arrow launched further on: what we give to others, what we leave, what makes us a true person.

Mein spezielles Zeichen ist in den meisten meiner Bilder zu sehen. Es beginnt mit zwei Linien, die spitz aufeinander zulaufen, dann folgt eine Energiespirale und ein Punkt außerhalb neben dem Zeichen ... Wir müssen zerbrechen, um wirklich ganz zu sein.

Das Zeichen besteht aus drei Elementen:

Die Linien: Zwei Linien, die aufeinander zulaufen, sich stützen: das Männliche und das Weibliche; Stärke und Süße.

Die Spirale: Sie erzeugt Energie, gibt Leben, strebt höher und höher.

Der Punkt: Ein vom Zeichen losgelöstes Zeichen, der Pfeil, der weitergeführt wird: was wir anderen geben, was wir zurücklassen, was uns zu einer wahren Person macht.

(...) The unification of what we perceive with what we can imagine gives rise to a particular form of communication that itself leads to an intimate and direct effect upon the senses that is vitally important for art. What was invisible becomes visible when one grasps the method, grammar and language of art and purely intellectual understanding is united with such an important value, artistically, as truth of the message. The investigation of these relationships is interesting enough to maintain the effort. (...)

Die Vereinheitlichung dessen was wir wahrnehmen führt zur Steigerung einer ungewöhnlichen Form der Verbindung welche uns deutlich macht, was wichtig für die Kunst ist. Was nicht sichtbar war wird sichtbar, wenn man die Methode, Grammatik oder Sprache der Kunst erfasst und das reine Verstehen mit der künstlerischen Botschaft verbunden hat. Diese Untersuchung ist so interessant, dass sie zu einem Aufwand berechtigt.

(...) Renata's basic means are linen, cotton, string or paper which she uses in an unconventional, specifically hers, intriguing and original way. She tears distinctly prepared and painted canvas into equal parts. They make matter (building material) of a free creation. Equally interesting is characteristic putting on, or rather forming abstract landscapes or compositions out of the many large surfaces of so prepared canvas. On the other hand, the string and paper used in a specific way make separate and independent - fulfilling or contrasting whole - structure. Compilation of those few - at first sight simple - elements creates full of dynamic energy and pressure multifarious structures. (...)

Meine Kunst ist Lebensdeutung, Meditation und Therapie; aktiviert den Betrachter, die eigenen Sehnsüchte leben zu lassen, die verschüttenden Urbedürfnisse zuzulassen, um die Spaltungen von Verstand, Wille und Sinne aufzuheben. Die Kunst will ein Projektionsschirm für den Betrachter sein und den Weg zur Ganzheit aufzeigen.

A printmaker, van Hasselt uses the techniques of lithography and screenprinting to create innovative layered works on unusual materials such as polycarbonate, wallpaper and domestic fabrics. She has a real passion for colour, texture and line, which she combines with her use of photos and diaristic cathartic drawings. Having travelled for the last eight months in Europe, this continues to be a constant source of inspiration for her work, which she creates at Edinburgh Printmakers, Scotland.

Die Druckgrafikerin arbeitet mit den Techniken der Lithographie und des Siebdrucks und schafft innovative mehrschichtige Arbeiten auf ungewöhnlichen Materialien, so wie z.B. Polycarbonat, Tapeten und Stoffen. Sie hat eine wahre Leidenschaft für Farben, Strukturen und Linien, und verbindet diese mit Fotos und diaristisch kathartischen Bildern. In den vergangenen acht Monaten reiste sie durch Europa; und dies ist eine ständige Quelle der Inspiration für ihre Arbeiten, die sie in Schottland bei Edinburgh Printmakers erstellt.

1963 – 1966 Studied under Robert Schmitt, Gerhard and August Swoboda
1985 Awarded the title of Professor, in Painting, Woodcuts, Philosophy and Writing

Honorary Member of the „European Artist e.V.” Association, Velbert, Germany

“Magic is what makes the painter”, says his maker. On his long journey through what has been an unusual life, experiencing the fate of Europe’s highs and lows, he discovered the world of painting, through which he communicates his past experiences and brings them to the present. His goal is painting, which erases hypocrisy and life’s theatre. It shows man’s existence in its purest form.

„Die Magie macht das Wesen des Malers aus“ lautet sein Credo. Auf einer langen Reise durch ein außergewöhnliches Leben, mit allen Höhen und Tiefen eines europäischen Schicksals, hat er zu jenen „Gegenbildern“ gefunden, in die er seine Erfahrungen der Vergangenheit und der Gegenwart einbringen kann. Sein Ziel ist ein Bild, das sich aller Heuchelei, alles Theatralischen und sogar der erzählenden Funktion entledigt und den Lebensentwurf des Menschen auf eine einfache Formel bringt.

“The power of Art to disturb things, to take a character that nobody could see earlier and to carry you to another unknown place, that looks completely close and comfortable but makes you contemplative and confused, is the ultimate aim of my research work”.

“Die Macht der Kunst, Dinge zu verändern, eine Gegenstand zu nehmen, den keiner zuvor gesehen hat und ihn auf eine neue unbekannte Ebene zu übertragen, die sehr nah und angenehm wirkt, jedoch nachdenklich macht und verwirrt ist das Hauptziel meiner Arbeit.”

"O Heaven, give me the brush of the long-stemmed Red Rose and the colours of the eternal Rainbow so that I can paint the laughter of the child that stamps life with innocence, the flowers that strive for fragrant beauty, the divine warm sunshine that matures the grapes, the speck of dust that transcends to infinity.'

Aghim Muka

born in Fier, Albania studied Fine Art at the school of Art in Valona, Albania, where he taught after for some years

1991

moved to Greece
lives and works in Milan, Italy

Muka is a versatile artistic figure and not easy to classify. His self-expression is not limited to painting alone. The media of his artistic research ranges from installations to video, sculpture and performance.

He breaks with the traditional norms. Never repetitive, each work expresses his poetic art with an explosive force, whatever the expressive means utilised, this being merely functional to Muka's need to narrate which he feels to be compelling, vital and categoric.

Being Albanian, he loves Albania and describes it with natural materials, cloth, silk, cotton, sand, wood and acrylic. His latest works see him making use of embroidery, sculpture, sewing, cooking, burning, drawing his inspiration from India, creating his work as though it were a great universal puzzle to be solved.

Er ist eine künstlerisch vielseitige Persönlichkeit und nicht einfach einzuordnen. Seine Arbeiten sind nicht allein auf die Malerei begrenzt.
Die Mittel seines künstlerischen Ausdrucks reichen von Installationen über Videos und Skulpturen bis hin zur Performance.

Er bricht mit den traditionellen Normen. Nie sich wiederholend, drückt jede Arbeit seine poetische Kunst mit einer explosiven Kraft aus.
Was auch immer die ausdrucksvoil verwendeten Mittel sind, sie dienen nur dem Zweck von dem zu erzählen, was für Muka zwingend erforderlich und als grundsätzlich empfunden wird.

Als Albaner liebt er sein Land und beschreibt es mit natürlichen Materialien: Tuch, Seide, Baumwolle, Sand, Holz, Acryl. In seinen neuesten Arbeiten verwendet er Stickereien, Skulpturen, Näharbeiten, Kochutensilien und zieht seine Inspirationen aus Indien. Er schafft seine Arbeiten als großes universelles Puzzle das gelöst werden muss.

Martha Nieuwenhuijs

1946 born in Amsterdam, Netherlands
She spent her early years in Paris, France
Since 1966 lives and works in Turin, Italy where she attained a university degree in political sciences
1973 she began to experiment with Fiber Art, not only as an artist but also promoting cultural events, in order to spread the knowledge of the art fabric movement in Italy
1998 she founded the International Biennial of Fiber Art "Trame d'autore" of Chieri (I)

In the early nineties she started creating sculpted jewellery, the so-called "Con-fusioni d'artista/Artist con-fusions", with the lost wax casting technique.
Her works have been on show in Italy, France, the Netherlands, Germany, Japan, Hungary and Spain.
Interested in shared art, she realised with the painter Claudio Jaccarino the two series of art books Metamorfosi (2004) and Sguardi (2005), and with the artist calligraphist Chen Li the exhibition Incontri (2005).

The artist "reveals great sensitivity for subtle, even minimal variations" wrote Piero Simondo in his critical essay for her exhibition in 1998. With this chromatic sobriety, fully based on hues she re-creates the colours of the past: the rusted, the stained, the burned. Sophisticated colours, not easy to obtain. Martha re-creates on purpose the effects of "lost time" in such a way that the final result looks accidental: a tear which just in this place harmonizes with this shade of ink...

Die Künstlerin „offenbart eine große Sensibilität für subtile, sogar minimale Veränderungen“, schrieb Piero Simondo in seinem Essay zu ihrer Ausstellung im Jahre 1998. Mit dieser chromatischen Schlichtheit, die ganz auf Schattierungen beruht, erschafft sie die Farben der Vergangenheit neu: das Verrostete, das Fleckige, das Verbrannte. Komplexe Farben, die nicht leicht zu erreichen sind. Martha erschafft die Auswirkungen der „verlorenen Zeit“ gezielt auf eine solche Art und Weise, dass das Endergebnis wie zufällig aussieht: ein Riss, der gerade an dieser Stelle mit dieser Farbschattierung harmonisiert ...

Born in Rovereto, Italy
lives in Turin, Italy

LUDOARTE

Clockworks completed with diverse objects are RUDI PUNZO' sculptures which own the gift of sound along with their aesthetic appearance: each piece has its own maybe dirty sound, a dissolved noise but eligible as a musical sound. Old family junks each requalified for a current use. Pedals which pushed bikes, old wood skis, the many bulky modern gears that become works of mysterious and fantastic sound machines as in the artist's mind.

There is an obvious poetical meaning in recycling an affluent society's junks while trying to earn back their beauty: thousands of useless objects born again, creatively focused in engaging as an-other value.

LUDOARTE

Rudi Punzos Skulpturen sind Uhrwerke, die mit verschiedenen Gegenständen vervollständigt werden. Zusätzlich zu ihrem ästhetischen Erscheinungsbild haben sie als Bonus noch einen Klang: jedes Werk hat einen eigenen, vielleicht unreinen Ton, ein fließendes Geräusch, jedoch als musikalischer Klang zu erkennen. Alter Familientrödel – jedes Stück wird neu für den gegenwärtigen Zweck verwendet: Pedale, die Fahrräder antrieben, alte Holzskier, viele sperrige moderne Zahnräder, die im Kopf des Künstlers zu mysteriösen und fantastischen Klangmaschinen werden.

Es steckt offensichtlich eine poetische Bedeutung darin, wenn man den Ramsch einer Überflussgesellschaft recycelt und versucht, dessen Schönheit zurück zu erobern: Tausende von wertlosen Objekte werden wiedergeboren und kreativ mit einer anderen Wertigkeit versehen.

His main aim is to develop a personal vision of art by intermingling sculptures, music, technology and performances. An artist, performer, musician and promoter of cultural events, Sein Hauptziel ist die Entwicklung einer eigenen Vision von Kunst, bei der eine Vermischung von Skulptur, Musik, Technologie und Performance stattfindet.

My paintings are visual translations of personal perceptions and experiences. From my imagination, from what could be or from what presents itself, I express by using the dynamics of form and colour, similar to the dynamics of a human relationship (between feelings and truth). The tension I express in both colour and form is, and will continue to be my main source of information.

Meine Bilder sind visuelle Übersetzungen von persönlichen Erkenntnissen und Erfahrungen. Aus meinen Vorstellungen, wie etwas sein könnte oder sich mir dargestellt hat, entsteht die bewusste Auseinandersetzung mit Form und Farbe, ein Abschätzen und Zusammenfügen sowie das in Beziehung setzen von Gefühlen, Wahrheiten und Zwischenmenschlichem. Die Frage, wie sich diese Erkenntnisse in Farbe und Form ausdrücken lassen, beschäftigt mich und fordert mich heraus.

My works are based on spontaneous visions that I transfer onto illustrative means. My emotional opinion subconsciously attracts me towards selection of an appropriate material and technique to demonstrate my thoughts to the viewer. This subconscious control helps me to keep searching and finding new ways of display.

2004	Further education at Art Academy Bad Reichenhall with Prof. Markus Lüpertz

The President and founding member of the International „European Artists e.V.“ is a vivacious and charismatically active practicing Artist, who through her charm, initiative and communicative actions has brought international Artists together in what can only be described as a pinnacle of international creative exchange.
Her iridescently colourful paintings portray the human condition and are based on her personal experiences stretching from her optimistic home surroundings, to the Aborigines of Australia. Using her personal intuition, she is able to feel the fate and suffering of man, which is portrayed in her work.

Her symbolically radiating paintings characterise her search for peace, tranquillity and success. The human condition is interpreted visually and honestly without the need for ideals or theories. (Father Laurentius U English OFM, May 2004)

Die Gründerin und Präsidentin des internationalen Kunstvereins „European Artists e.V.“ ist eine charismatisch integrative Künstlerin, die in ihren kommunikativen Aktionen, durch Produktion von Ideen Künstler weltweit über den europäischen Zenit hinaus zum künstlerischen kreativen Austausch führt.

Ihre leuchtenden farbigen Bilder verarbeiten Erlebnisse und optische Erfahrungen aus ihrer heimatlichen Umgebung bis hin zu den Aborigines in Australien mit ihrer intensiven Sehweise von Menschen, ihren Befindlichkeiten und Schicksalen.

Die ikonenhafte strahlenden Bilder offenbaren die Sehnsucht nach Ruhe und Frieden und Erfolgen aus einer inneren Gesetzmäßigkeit, die nicht abbildet, sondern eine Bildwelt von objektiver Absolutheit hervorbringt. Ohne zu belehren und ohne Ideologie wird die menschliche Existenz, auch ihre chaotische Dimension bildnerisch gebannt. (Pater Laurentius U English OFM, Mai 2004)
